SIX IN ONE FAMILY DIE IN COLLISION

DUNCANSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Six members of a family were killed and another was injured Monday night when their car and two trucks collided on Route 22 near this Blair County community.

The dead were Wilmer E. Hinish, 34, of Williamsburg; his wife, Dorothy, 34; a daughter, Sonja Joan, 12; and these sons: Robert Zane, 9; Randall Clark, 6; and William Dale 10 months.

The only surviving member of the family Roderick Kent, 4, was reported in satisfactory condition at Mercy Hospital in Altoona.

When admitted to the hospital, Roderick turned to a nurse and said: "I hope my mommy isn't dead."

He later asked: "When is my daddy coming up to me?"

Deputy Coroner William Crawford said a pickup truck rammed the Hinish car from behind and shoved it into the path of a truck loaded with bags of cement.

The impact of the crash sent the left front wheel of the cement truck ripping through the car. It came to rest on the auto's back seat.

Neither the driver of the cement truck, Lester Hall of Claysburg, nor the other driver, Theodore McMasters, 35, of Duncansville, R. D. 1, was injured.

State police charged McMasters with drunken driving after he was pronounced intoxicated by Dr. R. M. McNeal, a Hollidaysburg physician.

McMasters was held in Blair County Jail at Hollidaysburg pending a hearing.

Psychiatrists' Board To Examine Youthful Slayer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A neutral board of prominent psychiatrists, acting as "friends of the court," will examine 15-year-old Edward J. Cooney Jr., confessed slayer of little Becky Holt.

One of the psychiatrists is Dr. Baldwin L. Keyes, emeritus professor at Jefferson Medical College. Judge J. Sydney Hoffman of municipal court ordered the appointment of the psychiatric study group Monday after a conference with Dist. Atty. Victor H. Blane.

District attorney added that a decision will be reached on whether to try the boy in Quarter Session Court or in Juvenile Court after the study is complete. Judge Hoffman refused a defense request that the Cooney family be allowed to retain psychiatrists to examine the boy.

The youth is already undergoing tests by Municipal Court psychiatrists. Judge Hoffman said the special board is being retained neither for the commonwealth nor the defense, but strictly as "Friends of the court to aid us in this serious problem."

Salary Increase For State Employees

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee was told today that Pennsylvania's state employees should be given a $2 a day salary increase.

"The 60,000 state employees need adequate raises in salary—at least a $2-a-day raise," said Reuben H. Miller, president of the Pennsylvania State Employees Council (AFL-CIO).

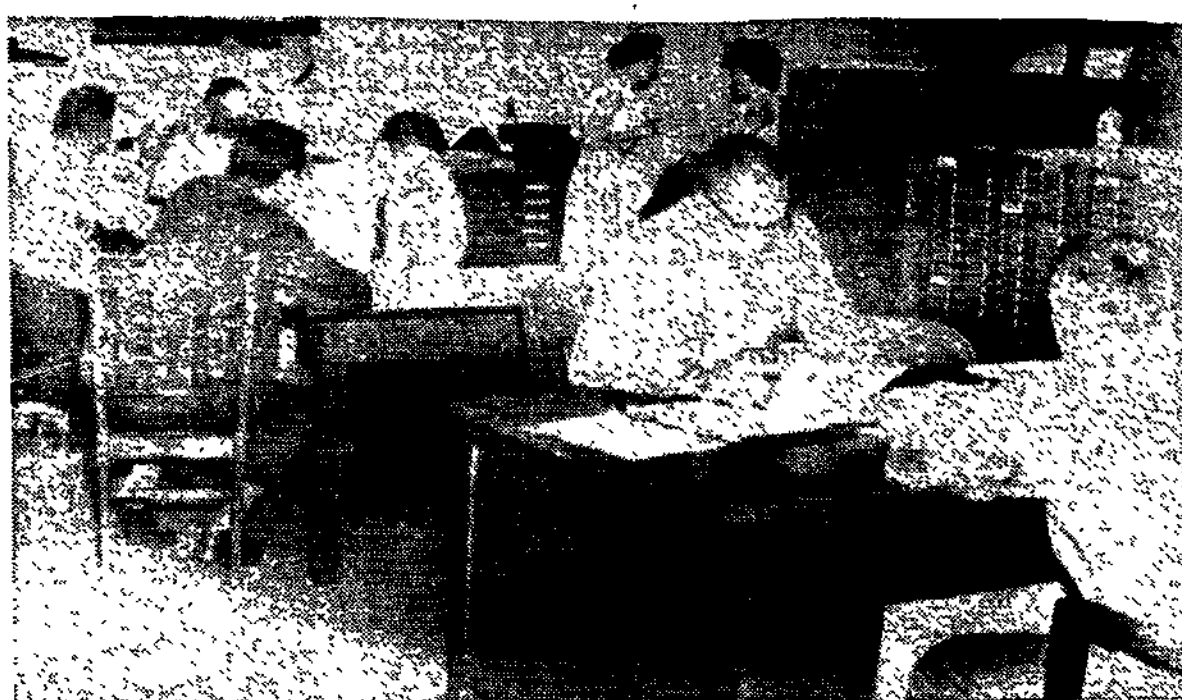

Sound Dollar Prescribed by Ike and Nixon for GOP Win

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—A sound dollar—with plenty of them available for GOP campaigners—is the prescription of President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon for a 1960 Republican victory.

In a turnout that astonished its Senate and House sponsors, Republicans overhauled two large banquet halls at a $100-a-plate dinner Monday night to honor party members of Congress who survived last November's GOP debacle, and many who didn't.

What seemed of more practical importance than anything said by either Eisenhower or Nixon—or a long series of other GOP speak-

Legislative Recess Hinted For 'Close, Calm Look at Pennsylvania Tax Dilemma'

BULLETIN
HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence today gave a cool reception to a proposal that the Legislature recess for two months to reexamine the state's tax dilemma and school financing problems.

"I could be facetious on that point," Lawrence told his weekly news conference, adding: "We've been pretty high in recess for quite a while."

House Speaker H. G. Andrews D-Cambria urged a two-month halt in legislative sessions to "give us time to sit down and evaluate our school program."

But, he said the recess idea was "too logical" to be accepted by the lawmakers.

HARRISBURG (AP)—House Speaker H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria) today urged a two-month recess of the Legislature for a close, calm look at the Commonwealth's tax dilemma and school financing problems.

"It would give us time to check revenue estimates, . . . and to sit down and evaluate our school program," he said in an interview.

But he added wryly that the recess idea was "too logical" to be accepted by the lawmakers.

Andrews, expanding on his recess idea, said: "We are engaged in a highly important battle for a sound dollar. This is a fight to promote an expanding economy" (Turn to Page Twelve)

Missile-Firing Nuclear Sub is Launched Today

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The nation's first missile-firing, nuclear powered submarine slips down the ways today with the advance billing of a "vital deterrent" against enemy aggression.

A crowd of 10,000 was expected to watch the launching of the 300-foot, 5,400-ton George Washington, first in a new class designed to fire the Polaris missile from either underwater or surface.

President Eisenhower, in a message for reading at the ceremonies, hailed the new vessel as one which "will add greatly to our ability to preserve the peace."

"It is my prayerful hope that this ship will be always ready but never used," Eisenhower's message said.

After the launching at the Electric Boat Division of the General Dynamics Corp., several months of fitting out will be required for the George Washington before builder's trials.

Mrs. Robert B. Anderson, wife of the secretary of the treasury, is sponsor of the shark-shaped submarine.

The Electric Boat Division said the George Washington is capable of remaining submerged indefinitely while carrying large numbers of intermediate range ballistic missiles.

Gov. Long Tells Legislature He'll Come Back Soon

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long, in telephone calls from a psychiatric clinic in Galveston, Tex., Monday called on the Louisiana Legislature to pass bills he had sponsored and said he hoped to be home soon.

The calls, apparently made with permission of the governor's physicians, came one day before the Legislature's final adjournment.

Long was flown to John Sealy Hospital in Galveston May 30 after venting his wrath before the Legislature with profanity. He was committed June 2 by Mrs. Long.

Both the House and Senate, acting within minutes of each other, passed a resolution urging the 63-year-old governor to continue treatment as long as "is remarkable and he is as well-informed on state government as any man on the hill."

Many property owners attending the informal assessment hearings in Warren County Court House are doing so at a waste of their time and expense as well as that of assessment personnel of the county, it was declared today by an official connected with the Commissioners' office.

Chief Assessor Fred Lenker explained that unless the assessment on property has been more than doubled from that of last year, the owners will face no increase in taxes.

Even if the new figures are three times that of previous years, the amount of tax increase will not be of a great extent.

Overall, Warren County assessment was "doubled, but there is no large tax increase."

Property owners may save themselves time and trouble by remembering these facts he insisted. Many people realize after their hearing that they had no real cause for the protest. It is believed that many of those attending the daily sessions did not fully understand the matter.

The assessment program here was a compulsory Legislature matter, not only for Warren County but for the entire state of Pennsylvania.

Judge Halts Signing for Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—The formal signing of the contract for the world heavyweight title fight between Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson of Sweden was halted today by order of Gen. Melvin L. Krulwich, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

Krulwich said Federal Judge Irving Kaufman would give his decision in the Eddie Machen-Johansson suit at 1 p.m., EST, today and that the contract would be signed shortly after that time if the decision is favorable to the June 25 bout in Yankee Stadium.

Machen, one-time No. 1 contender for the Patterson title, claims he has a contract with Johansson for a return bout.

The Swede stopped him in one round in Gotesborg last autumn. Machen instituted suit, which was heard last week, seeking to halt the title fight until a second Johansson-Machen bout could be held. Judge Kaufman reserved decision until 1 p.m. (Turn to Page Twelve)

Tennessee Coal Miner Killed by Sniper's Bullet

LAKE CITY, Tenn. (AP)—A sniper's bullet killed a coal miner Monday as he worked his machinery on a federal flood control project here in defiance of threats of sabotage or death.

Five persons were questioned at length in the slaying of Jess Fessler, 33, of Sunbright, Tenn., shot in the back as he stood beside his bulldozer on the project near the Lake City High School.

Anderson County Sheriff Glad Woodward questioned two of the men in Clinton, south of Lake City, and Campbell County Sheriff Rose Kitts held three men for questioning in Jacksboro.

Lake City is located on the Anderson-Campbell county line about 30 miles northwest of Knoxville. It is in the coalfield area extending through southeast Kentucky and northern Tennessee.

The area has seen numerous cases of violence since the United Mine Workers began a drive to bring all mines under union contract. Three persons have been killed in Kentucky.

Sheriff Woodward said, however, "We are positive this shooting is in no way concerned with union troubles."

Elephant Takes Swim But Needs Help Later

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Queenie, a water skiing elephant, took an unscheduled swim in the Monongahela River Monday and required a crane to lift her ashore.

The 1,000-pound pachyderm, a star of the city's bicentennial celebration, was dunked when the wake from a passing boat upset her huge pontoon-like skis.

Her trainer, Bill Green, was with Queenie on the skis. He managed to hold her trunk above the water while he freed her from the skis. Then both swam 75 feet to shore.

A crane from a nearby construction project lifted Queenie from the water.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—She had to travel 66 miles a day to attend classes, but Mrs. Jane E. Larson, 72, didn't mind. She won her bachelor's degree in political science Monday at University of Utah's commencement.

"Going back to school is my hobby—a way to keep young," said the mother of four from Ogden, Utah.

Jet Passenger Plane Pilot Is Fined by F.A.A.

NEW YORK (AP)—The pilot of the jet airplane that took a 30,000 foot dive toward the Atlantic last February has been fined $1,000 by the Federal Aviation Agency for being out of the cockpit at the time.

Pan American World Airways, the owner of the plane, was also fined $1,000 for failing to keep a flight-recording device in operation on the new 707 Boeing jet.

The copilot, who was at the controls when the plane suddenly dived from 35,000 feet, was notified of the government plans to suspend his captain's rating for six months. The reason for the suspension apparently was his failure to stop the dive immediately.

The jet, with 114 passengers, was flying from London to Gander, Nfld., Feb. 3, when it suddenly nosed down. The pilot, Capt. W. Waldo Lynch, was in the passenger compartment. Because of the tremendous speed and angle of dive he had to fight his way back to the cockpit.

He and the copilot, Capt. S. T. Peters, leveled the plane with difficulty a mile in distance but only a few seconds in time from almost certain death in the ocean.

Lynch, a Pan-American vice president for communications, and Peters, chief pilot of the Pacific-Alaska division, were among supervisory personnel flying jets during a jet boycott by union pilots in a wage dispute.

Move for Suspension Of Neff Made in House

HARRISBURG (AP)—Feeling mounted in the Legislature today to suspend Samuel G. Neff from his state post pending a probe of political kickback charges in Beaver County.

In another action, Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alpern called the second meeting in as many days on the charges.

At Monday's session, Neff spoke in his own defense on charges he forced political contributions from highway equipment rental contractors.

Monday night, separate resolutions were introduced in the House and Senate demanding Neff be suspended from his $12,500-a-year job as manager of the state workers' insurance fund.

Steelworkers' Dues Payments Fall Short

NEW YORK (AP)—David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, reports that the union's dues payments under the check-off system are 300,000 under the 1,250,000 peak.

Dues payments went down from 1,000,000 in April to 950,000 last month, he said.

He said he did not see anything significant in this month-to-month fluctuations. Layoffs, or local strikes affect the dues total in any month.

McDonald made the report Monday in rebuttal to the steel industry's recent publication of job figures intended to show that total employment in April was almost back to normal.

McDonald's report was issued as contract negotiations in the basic steel industry continued here.

Legislature Has Measure To Outlaw Obscene Trash

HARRISBURG (AP)—Persons dealing in obscene literature would be subject to longer prison sentences and larger fines under bills introduced Monday in both houses of the Legislature.

The Senate bill, introduced by Sens. John T. van Sant (R-Lehigh) and Fred B. Rooney (D-Northampton), would raise the penalties to a maximum of five years in "prison" and a $5,000 fine. The present law provides for two years in prison and a $2,000 fine.

The bill also would make the penalties apply to anyone advertising or transporting obscene literature or pictures, knowingly or not. The present law does not pertain to persons who transport such material and only applies to those who advertise it knowingly.

The legislation would add legal definitions for the words obscene, lewd, lascivious, filthy, indecent and disgusting.

The penalty for publishing or distributing criminal literature would be reduced to one year in jail or a $500 fine. Criminal literature is defined as publications principally made up of police or criminal reports or stories and pictures of deeds of bloodshed.

The similar House bill was introduced by Reps. Marian Markley (R-Lehigh) and James A. O'Donnell (D-Northampton).

HOPE STILL EXISTS THAT GROMYKO MAY RECEIVE CONCESSION INSTRUCTIONS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP)—Western foreign ministers were reported deeply concerned today over the possibility that their conference with the Soviet Union may collapse in failure soon without agreement either on Berlin problems or a summit conference.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville rate the danger of a breakdown greater than does Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, highly placed authorities said.

All three still hope that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will get instructions from Moscow in a few days enabling him to make last-minute concessions.

But Herter particularly is now much less hopeful in this respect in view of statements made by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in an interview last weekend.

The Western ministers are about ready to toughen their conference tactics in dealing with Gromyko. They returned to another secret session at Herter's villa. They discussed the desirability of cutting the session short if the arguments developed the same positions that have been debated repeatedly for more than a week.

The prospect of a breakdown—which apparently all sides still hope to avoid—is blamed by Western ministers on the Budapest interview. In this Khrushchev said that if the Geneva conference now fails to reach agreement, agreement would be made at a summit conference, and if the Western governments refused a summit because of a foreign minister's failure, "then world opinion will see who is responsible for the collapse of the summit conference."

This was interpreted as a maneuver by Khrushchev to begin to pin the blame on the West for whatever failures grow out of the deadlock over Berlin.

Khrushchev gave answers on the Berlin dispute itself which went beyond anything Gromyko had been able to say here. Again, these answers, in the Western view, pointed toward a potential breakdown.

Khrushchev ridiculed the demand of the Western powers that the Soviet Union pledge itself to recognition of their rights in Berlin and to a policy of noninterference with access between West Germany and West Berlin.

"The Soviet Union," Khrushchev said, "will not under any kind of pressure make an agreement which would perpetuate the occupation regime in West Berlin."

Gromyko has made the interview a part of the official conference record.

In a secret session Monday, Gromyko gave the impression he was interested in working out a (Turn to Page Twelve)

British Show Critics Scored By Liberace

LONDON (AP)—Liberace, American pianist, complained in court today that there seems to be an unusual number of weak stomachs among British show critics.

Testifying for the second day in his libel action against a British newspaper accused of describing him as homosexual, Liberace declared: "They sure have a lot of people who want to throw up here, that's all I can say."

Thursday, July 16 To Be Circus Day in Warren

Children of all ages in Warren rejoiced today with the announcement that the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the Hagen Brothers Circus on July 16.

The Circus, which originates in Oklahoma, will present matinee and evening performances under canvas at the Warren Municipal Airport. A spokesman for the Jaycees said today that the decision to sponsor the Hagen Brothers show was based on the extremely favorable admission prices.

While not a large circus in comparison with Ringling Brothers or Clyde Beatty, the Hagen Brothers show is one of the best small circuses now touring America. It retains all the excitement and glamour that youngsters thrill to in a circus.

Featured attractions of the three ring spectacle include the amazing Beretti Troupe, ranked as one of the outstanding wire acts, the St. Claire, Australian feather-board artists, and the sensational Loraks in a death-defying aerial ballet.

Animals with the all-new show include a herd of elephants trained by Capt. Schmidt, Howard's military horses and Lola's educated dogs.

Playing time for the circus runs around one and a half hours which should appeal to many parents to whom the thought of a three hour or longer show with children in tow is something less than pleasant. While pointing out that the Hagen Brothers Circus is comparatively small, the Jaycee spokesman said that the calibre of performance is top notch.

A circus representative started a canvass of local merchants and business men today in order to give them an opportunity to help send deserving children to the circus. Since the circus is largely for children, the Jaycees are anxious that inability to pay should not be an obstacle for a child who wants to attend.

Birthday of Ten Commandments Starts Thursday

Shavuoth, birthday of the Ten Commandments, will be celebrated in synagogues and homes beginning next Thursday at sundown and continuing Friday and Saturday.

Known as "Feast of Weeks," because it comes exactly seven weeks after the Exodus of the Children of Israel from Egyptian slavery, Shavuoth falls on the sixth day of the Hebrew religious calendar month of Sivan.

According to tradition, it was on that day that the twin tablets of the Ten Commandments, written by the Divine hand, were handed down to Moses on Mt. Sinai.

Shavuoth also is considered the end-celebration to the Passover which commemorated the Exodus 49 days previously. Passover points to the road of religious freedom through physical freedom and Shavuoth is the climatic affirmation of that religious freedom and its duty obligations.

The charm of the Shavuoth holiday is enhanced by its connection with the pastoral life of the Holy Land's farmers in ancient days.

Shavuoth was the second of the ancient Pilgrim Festivals. It was on Shavuoth that the offerings of the "first fruits" of field and orchard were brought to the Temple in Jerusalem by pilgrims from near and afar. This was a time of thanksgiving to the Almighty.

Even today synagogues and homes are decorated with flowers and foliage, symbolizing the beauty, the wisdom, the goodness of the Almighty and His governing stature.

Appropriately, the biblical Shavuoth synagogue services describes the proclamation of the Ten Commandments in the craggy Sinai desert.

Also, the biblical book of Ruth is read. It is the dramatic tale of Ruth, the Moabitess and her simple, uplifting love for Naomi, her mother-in-law, for whom she forsook her whole past life. Ruth became the ancestress of King David, "sweet singer in Israel."

Shavuoth is observed for two days by the traditionally observant citizens of Jewish faith, one day by reform groups.

Play Area Work Goes On, Council Hears in Report

Work continues on the West Side Recreation Area as the land has been cleaned of debris, scarified and floated, according to the monthly report given Borough Manager George Geraci by Parks and Playgrounds Dept.

The report, given Council in regular session Monday evening, said workmen are preparing the area, a proposed site for a completely-equipped ball diamond.

Eight new picnic tables and picnic stoves have been placed in use in Crescent Park. Playgrounds equipment will be installed at the seven areas. All has been repaired and painted. Tennis courts are not ready to handle the large crowds who annually stage exciting games throughout the summer.

Damage to Crescent playground rest room facilities from the January flood has been repaired.

Police Dept. made 371 arrests during May, according to Public Safety Dept. Hearing the list was 287 parking violations, Traffic accidents last month injured a total of 13 people. Property damage amounted to $4,739. Parking meter collections netted $1,805.41.

Fire Dept. had 14 calls during May, losing only $4,190 out of a $21,375 valuation involved.

Public Works Dept. are preparing dirt streets for oiling. Street sweeping and sewer cleaning continues as usual. New sidewalks, 40 feet, were constructed.

German measles and chicken pox topped communicable disease list, 19 and 17 cases respectively. The 22 building permits issued in May, totaled a $68,900 value.

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—In a couple of weeks CBS will announce the recipients of five television writing grants-in-aid of $5,000 each.

There have been thousands of applicants, including professional writers and many who have not published anything.

Louis G. Cowan, president of CBS-TV, who initiated the plan which will continue for at least three years, says the program represents "a slight effort to improve the over-all quality of writing for television."

Each who receives a grant for the year beginning July 1 will be assigned to a CBS-TV network producer with whom he will confer on his writing project and problems.

"It's expected that each will complete a piece of television work in the course of a year," says Cowan. "It may be in drama or it may be some other creative programming idea. An important aspect is this: If CBS doesn't accept the grantee's work, he's free to take it to any other network or private producer."

Cowan emphasizes this is not some kind of CBA talent hunt. Rather, he and others in the network wish to contribute to the general cause of better TV writing.

Television needs more writers," Cowan says. "and this is one way to find and encourage them. . . . It seems to me that the CBS-TV grants-in-aid plan is an excellent idea—and certainly it's the first time that television has undertaken a continuing project to do something about its greatest lack: enough good writing talent."

rightful legacy—from God or your healthy heartbeat, if you still have one. Unfrown. Unsnarl. Unzip your resentments. Love. The early Christians knew the meaning of that. Whatever became of them, or of the World?

Okay, it's raining. Don't hunch your shoulders like a brooding hen. Walk in the rain. Strut in it. You're waterproof. The worst that can happen to you is a head cold and a dry-cleaning job. You'll recover from both.

Slow down. Straighten up. This is your world. Enjoy it. Don't look down your nose at strangers; they'll only look back at you. Glare at the world—as I just saw you doing—and it will snap at your heels.

So endeth today's sermon, which never would have happened if your reporter had not glimpsed himself in a store window mirror today, scowling, rushed, and ornery for no earthly reason than pure unnecessary cussedness.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Alan Young was told recently by the American embassy in London that he would lose his American citizenship if he stayed any longer in England.

The comedian, who had been working in his native land for most of three years, explained:

"I'm here because there isn't any comedy on television in the states. If I went back there, I'd be out of work and collecting unemployment insurance. Think of the money I'm saving the government!"

The officials weren't impressed with his argument, and so he's back in his adopted country (actually he is still considered a British subject by England and so has dual citizenship).

It is perhaps a commentary on the state of comedy that Young has returned not to play it for laughs. He's appearing in a dramatic version of H. G. Wells' "The Time Machine." It's an actor's dream of a role, since he gets to play his real age, himself as a 70-year-old and his own son.

This is the same fellow who did some wonderfully comic things in pictures like "Maggie" and "Chicken Every Sunday" and was one of the early hits in television. Yet he had to return to England to work as a laugh-getter. He did many TV shows there, as well as the movie "Tom Thumb."

Young was a victim in America of TV's voracious appetite for performers, especially comics. And he's not alone. Look at the other casualties: Milton Berle, Sid Caesar, Jackie Gleason, Red Buttons. "And the situation doesn't seem to be getting any better," Young observed. "Both Gleason and Berle have gone off the air this season, and even more westerners will be on next year."

"THE CORNPLANTERS"

The Cornplanters Drum and Bugle Corps, now the proud possessor of a handsome flag of the Borough of Warren, got off to a winning start for the summer season in parade competition by winning a first place in the V. F. W. convention in Dunkirk, N. Y., Saturday night.

The champion unit gave a few hundred citizens a real treat Monday evening when it marched from the Legion Home to the Municipal Building to receive from Burgess Rice, on behalf of the community, a Borough Flag to be carried in the bank of banners leading the American Legion Corps. After a couple numbers, the Corps marched to General Joseph Warren Park where it played a half-hour program to the delight of a large crowd of music lovers.

The Cornplanters presented an attractive appearance in their first competitive parade of the season, at Dunkirk, in new tan military jackets with gold arrowheads on the sleeves and a bright gold shoulder sash. They received many compliments on their new Indian appearance. Complete with a genuine black eagle headdress, "Chief Marching Moose Senger" strutted along without his two Indian escorts.

Incidentally this weekend will find the Cornplanters competing in a standstill competition at three o'clock Saturday afternoon in Midway Park, at Chautauqua Lake, followed by a quick dash to Cambridge Springs for another parade appearance. On Sunday the unit will participate in the annual community Flag Day exercises at the Elk Club. Other engagements in the next few weeks include an appearance in the Independence Day Parade in Warren; July 11 at Falconer and July 25th at Kittanning.

Listening to the Corps playing in perfect harmony last evening many were impressed by the fact that it has become a most valuable musical asset to the Warren Area.

AT LONG LAST!

It will be gratifying for many citizens to be reminded that under an ordinance, presented by Glen Patchen, of the Public Safety Committee, and adopted at the June meeting of Borough Council last evening, parking is now prohibited on all bridges of the borough, including both approaches to the Hickory street structure, crossing the Allegheny river.

WASHINGTON (AP)—How does a general—when he retires—get a fat job with a big corporation selling millions of dollars worth of military equipment to the government?

It could happen in a lot of ways. It could—and did—happen this way. On the day a general retires he gets a cryptic telephone call from an old friend, telling him to call a man at a certain number in California.

He does. It turns out well. He becomes president of a company making bombers and gets a salary of $75,000 a year, plus a $25,000 bonus.

A congressional subcommittee will soon start looking into the question of how high-ranking military men, after retirement, get big-paying jobs with big companies dealing with the government.

The subcommittee—headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La.)—will also root around among the military equipment makers to check on how they compete to get Uncle Sam to buy their stuff.

But this kind of investigation doesn't have unanimous approval in Congress. For instance, Sen. London B. Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, doesn't think a munitions lobby as such exists or needs investigating.

Neither does Sen. Stuart Symington, Missouri Democrat and former secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration. Symington himself was once a big help to a retiring general through a simple telephone call.

Hebert's group learned about this three years ago when it was examining the aircraft industry. His subcommittee now would like to know how some other generals and admirals got their jobs and what they do to earn their pay.

In its 1956 inquiry Hebert's group called—among top men in the aircraft industry—J. T. McNamara, former Air Force general who retired in 1952 and quickly became president of the Convair Corporation.

This firm made the B52 bombers for the government and McNamara testified that in the late 1940s, when the value of this particular plane was in dispute, he backed development of the B52.

Hebert asked him how he got his job with Convair and McNamara told this story: "On the morning of my retirement (Jan. 31, 1952) I did receive a cryptic telephone call and the question asked of me was, 'Have you signed up to go to work?' I said 'I have not.'"

McNamara said he told the caller he was going to San Diego to live—because he had married a San Diego girl—and the voice on the phone said: "Well, when you get to San Diego, would you call this number?"

McNamara indicated that from the telephone exchange the caller gave him—it was in Indio, Calif.—that he guessed the one who answered that phone would be Floyd B. Odium, chairman of the Convair board of directors.

When he got to San Diego, McNamara said, he called the number. And it was Odium. The financier offered the retired general the presidency of Convair.

For five years as president, he would receive $75,000 a year, plus a $25,000 bonus yearly. For the following 10 years—while he served as a consultant—he would receive $30,000 a year.

Hebert asked McNamara who made the cryptic call, urging him to get it touch with Odium.

The general said it was Symington, with whom he had worked at the Pentagon when Symington was secretary of air. At the time of the call Symington was no longer secretary and had not yet been elected senator.

McNamara said there was no connection between his championship of the B52—while he was still in service—and the fact that the company later hired him as president.

He said he had never been approached—while still in service—about a job with Convair.

Here and There

With the closing of school which means the beginning of summer recreation programs, attention of parents is directed to the importance of using extra caution at all times to avert accidents to children at play.

The ever increasing popularity of the Hot Stone League, and other jump-size baseball games, is creating more and more early evening activity for the entire family. Although many of these activities begin late in the afternoon, most of them often are not concluded until dusk. With the sudden ending of these events, streets become congested with automobiles, children on bicycles and pedestrians. It is important for all to remember to be extra cautious to prevent accidents marring these summer pleasures. Parents should be certain that car lights are turned on while they also keep a sharp lookout for bikes and walking persons. Cyclists should remember to follow rigidly requirements, all also should have their bicycles equipped with a light in front and a red reflector at the rear. It is a time for all concerned to do their full part in promoting safety at these recreational gettogethers and help assure a safer summer for the entire community.

We are informed by Congressman Gavin that he has been advised by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization that ten 200-bed Civil Defense Emergency Hospitals have been placed in the 28th District. These hospitals are pre-positioned so that they may be ready, if needed, should a major disaster arise. Within a few hours the hospitals can be uncited and set up by local medical authorities, ready to receive patients. Mr. Gavin said that one Civil Defense Emergency Hospital has been placed at each of the following locations: Clarion, Clarion County; St. Mary's, Elk County; Franklin, Venango County; Warren, Warren County; Bradford, McKean County; Port Allegany, McKean County; Kane, McKean County; Tionesta, Forest County; Brookway, Jefferson County; Brockway, Jefferson County. This is part of the program of the Federal Government, the Congressman stated, in performing its share of the obligation in planning for the civil defense of our country.

Residents of the Warren area will have the opportunity on Sunday, June 21, of joining an old time railroad excursion at Jamestown, via the Erie R.R., to world famous Kinzua Viaduct. This special train has been rescheduled from the earlier date of May 17, when cancellation at that time was forced due to a derailment of 37 freight cars at Falconer, N.Y. that day. Many who purchased tickets for the May 17 trip have retained them, and they will be honored on June 21, but there will also be room for others desiring to go. For the convenience of Warren area residents tickets may be obtained in Warren at the B & B Smoke Shop on Liberty Street. Special excursion rates prevail, and to assure proper accommodations an advance deadline date for ticket purchases has been set for June 17. The special train is scheduled to leave Jamestown Erie R.R. Station at 11:50 a.m., DST, and return there at 6:20 p.m. At Kinzua Viaduct the train will stop on top of the structure, and those wishing to do so may alight on the walkways on either side of the train and wait for about an hour while the train proceeds to Mt. Jewett where the motive power will be run around the train for the return trip. The Viaduct is in excellent shape and the walkways and guard rails on its top are comparatively new. On a clear day the views from the bridge are breathtaking, with many miles of Allegheny Mountain scenery meeting the eye. Kinzua Viaduct was originally built in 1882, and rebuilt to its present form in 1900. It is 301 feet high, 2053 feet long, and today is the 4th highest railway viaduct in the world. A baggage counter car will be part of the train in which food service will be available, or passengers may bring their own food with them, as no food stops will be made.

Steel-Labor Battlefield Obscured by Layers of Fog

BY PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Anyone wondering why big steel wage negotiations don't make more headway faster can find his answer just by trying to compare statements of the two sides.

They don't speak the same language. They don't seem to be able to agree on basic facts on which a settlement could be made.

These wage negotiations now have a short time to run before the present contract expires June 30. Both labor and management insist they do not want a strike. Each insists that the other's uncompromising attitude is forcing them into one.

THE TWO PRINCIPAL spokesmen for steel management and labor—Roger M. Blough, U.S. Steel board chairman, and David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers president—have now made their public pitches in Washington. They have thrown the issue into greater confusion.

Just what the steelworkers are demanding in a new contract has not been made public. David McDonald says only that his "fair and reasonable demands cover wages, hours and working conditions." He gives no figures.

Whatever they are, steel management says they cannot be met and sticks to a one-year wage and price freeze.

The two sides don't agree on the simplest basic statement. And the curious thing is that management talks most about wages while labor talks most about prices and profits. Labor talks management while management talks labor.

Roger Blough declares that, "The employees of U.S. Steel last year received an average of $6,908 in wages and benefits."

David McDonald says the wage figure is $4,600. The careful reader—but not the careless listener—will recognize they're talking about two different things. Blough is talking about wages and pensions and supplementary, unemployment benefits. McDonald is talking about wages alone.

THE ARGUMENT on prices and profits is equally confused by talking about different things—like apples and bananas. Says Blough: "In 1950, profits amounted to 8.1 cents out of each dollar the customers spent for steel. Last year the profit was 6.3 cents on the dollar and the average throughout the present decade is only 6.5 cents."

Says McDonald: "In the first quarter of this year, at an average operating rate of 32.6 per cent, U.S. Steel Corp. could have sold its steel shipments at $18 a ton less and still earned a net profit after taxes of 6.8 per cent on net worth."

The fine point here is that Blough is talking about profit on the sales dollar and McDonald is talking about profit as a percentage of capital investment. Blough says that wages and benefits in the steel industry have risen 286 per cent in the last 18 years.

BLOUGH DECRIES the decline of American steel exports and the loss of business to foreign competitors. McDonald says that foreign producers are more progressive and that Americans haven't gone after the foreign business. Blough blames it largely on lower foreign labor costs. So they go, back and forth.

McDonald decries the U.S. steel industry's half-million dollar advertising expenditure to influence public opinion in this fight. But he doesn't reveal how much his own union has spent on its publicity campaign.

In summary, the two sides have not contributed to public understanding of this issue, although the consuming public has as big an interest as the producers.

Matter of FACT

In the presidential election of 1824, Andrew Jackson won the greatest number of electoral votes, 99, against 84 for John Quincy Adams, 41 for William H. Crawford and 37 for Henry Clay. But he lacked the necessary majority. So the House of Representatives had to choose between Jackson, Adams and Crawford. In the final balloting, Adams won by six votes: 13 for Adams, seven for Jackson, four for Crawford.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen
 (© 1958: By The Chicago Tribune)

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

O. S. D. writes: "I'm a woman of 66. About five years ago, I started to drink milk at breakfast, instead of coffee. Now we are told radioactivity fallout settle in milk and I wonder if I should continue drinking it. If milk is contaminated, how about meat? I read that vegetables contain radioactivity, getting it from the soil."

There is no doubt that radioactive fallout has increased during the last six months, possibly due to Russian experiments with nuclear weapons. Higher amounts of radioactivity have been found in wheat but milk is approximately the same. Tests show also a slight increase in soil radioactivity but not on leaves or blades of grass. This type of contamination has remained constant for years and is more important because cattle are vegetarians.

Increases in fallout radioactivity remain below the danger point. But what would happen if 10 or more countries decided to go in for nuclear testing? Public interest is at a high pitch through fear of a nuclear war. The politicians do not help when they use scare tactics for their own purposes.

There are some sources of radiation no one talks about, such as natural radiation from soil, rocks, and cosmic rays. We also have manmade radiation from TV, luminous dial watches, X-ray machines, and various occupational effects. This is 50 to 100 times more radiation than we get from fallout.

Some people believe a further increase in permissible levels means death or, at the least, genetic changes that will affect our offspring or increase our chances of developing tumors or leukemia. Theoretically, each given amount of radiation has this potentiality but cancer is a complicated disease and is difficult to produce experimentally unless large doses of radiation are used.

In my opinion, O. S. D., our reader, can continue to drink milk without the slightest apprehension. We cannot predict the future but, at 66, there are far more hazards to longevity than traces of radioactivity in milk.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by letter if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request. TOMORROW. Multiple symptoms.

ABDOMINAL PAIN

C. W. writes: I get gas pockets that can be relieved only with an enema. Is there anything else I can do?

REPLY
 Yes. Abdominal pain that is severe enough to warrant an enema usually comes from causes other than gas pockets. Your habits, including dietary and emotional, should be evaluated and the examination must include X-rays of the colon and stool studies for amebas and other parasites. It could be that you have created a vicious circle. The enemas have made your bowel lazy so that it refuses to empty these pockets.

MEASLES AND MUMPS

E. D. writes: Is it true that if a pregnant woman gets measles the child might be defective, and if a man gets mumps he becomes sterile?

REPLY
 Yes, if the woman develops German measles during the first three months of pregnancy; and if the mumps virus settles in the reproductive organs on both sides in males.

FLOATING KIDNEY

C. B. writes: What is a floating kidney and where does it come from?

REPLY
 You mean, where does it go? The kidneys are held in place by fatty tissues along the back. They go up and down with each breath. When the individual stands they drop an inch or two. A kidney floats when it moves too far. There is no harm so long as it does not descend low enough to kink the tube that leads to the bladder.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
 NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower proposed today to give the savers a break. It's been a long time coming.

Those who buy U. S. savings bonds—whether at their bank or through payroll deductions—may see their returns from new purchases go up by one half per cent to 3 1/2 per cent.

And there's sweetening proposed for those who are holding bonds—despite the jeers of their neighbors who have been piling up profits (at least paper ones) in the stock market. The yield on outstanding savings bonds, even those that have matured, may be raised.

Should you cash your old bonds to buy new ones?

Better look carefully before you do. When and if the Congress agrees to the President's proposal, the Treasury is likely to increase their yield by shortening the maturity time of the new bonds.

Present E bonds yield 3 1/2 per cent if held to maturity—8 years and 11 months. In the early years after purchase the bonds yield much less if redeemed.

To increase the yield at maturity to 3 1/2 per cent the Treasury is likely to shorten the period of maturity (you'll still pay $75 for a $100 bond).

But, as in the case of the present bonds, the 3 1/2 per cent yield won't be paid if the bonds are redeemed in the early years after purchase.

Before redeeming your present bonds you should study the maturity tables to see how much you'll get for them and how long you'll have to hold the new bonds before they yield you as much as your present ones now do.

There also is a tax angle—especially those who are holding bonds that they expect to redeem only after they retire.

Those who haven't been procrastinating the interest on the bonds each year, but are waiting to pay income tax on the interest in one lump after they finally redeem them, may do well to wait until they retire. Their annual income will be lower then and the interest won't land them in an expensive higher bracket.

The Congress may or may not agree with the President on raising bond interest rates. But raising rates on savings bonds will be more popular than some other of the President's proposals.

Why does the Treasury want to pay higher interest rates on your savings bonds?

First, at present rates more bonds have been turned in for redemption than new bonds have been sold.

Those who redeemed them were lured by higher returns from other investments.

That's a damn on the Treasury—at a time when it's been running a deficit—that it can't afford.

Second, sale of savings bonds is almost free of the taint of inflation. They can't be sold, as many other government securities can—only redeemed. Thus they take money out of circulation as long as they are held.

Beauty Consultant Coming to Mullen's

Miss Mary Frechie, special beauty consultant, will be at Mullen Drug store June 10, 11 and 12, to give interesting skin care advice in connection with the House of Jaquet, makers of cosmetic and treatment preparation of French origin.

The beauty consultant, emphasizes that the secret of a youthful appearance lies in the combination of exercise, diet, care, sunshine and correct use of scientifically compounded creams and lotions.

The eyes, Miss Frechie points out, are especially important in the current fashion trend. A lady may spend hours selecting just the right hat to go with a "perfect" dress, but if eyes are not attractive, the style boat has been missed.

Many suggestions to benefit general appearance will be featured during Miss Frechie's Warren visit. Plan to stop in and enjoy a consultation.

Men Will Resist Arrival Of Middle Age to the End

Men are sensitive creatures who fight the idea that they're middle-aged just as long as they can. That's why it is so hard for a wife to get her husband to slow down and begin to take things a little easier.

Try to get husband to cut out desserts and those regular before-bedtime snacks and you've made him unhappily conscious of his expanding waistline.

Ask a husband nicely if it wouldn't be better to wait until the cool of evening to mow the lawn or suggest that he ought to cut down from 18 holes of golf to nine and he gets indignant.

Suggest that a husband is working too hard and that he ought to turn over some of his work to someone else and he assures you that nobody else can handle the details, that if he wants a job done right he has to do it himself.

Try to get a husband home from a party early and he reminds you that it's just the shank of the evening.

Use your powers of persuasion to try to get him to have a complete physical exam and he tells you he never felt better in his life.

Try to make him stay at home and take care of himself when he isn't feeling well and he tells you not to fuss over him.

So what is a wife to do? No matter how hard she tries to make her husband slow down and take care of himself as any sensible middle-aged person ought to do she has to contend with the masculine ego, so sensitive to any hint that he isn't as young as he used to be.

Mr. Humes was born at Renovo Jan. 16, 1886, and for many years was employed as a car inspector for the Pennsylvania Railroad. He moved to this section and to James City to work at the American Plate Glass plant. In later years and prior to his retirement he was employed at the Kane Manufacturing Corp.

Extended Phone Service Slated At Grand Valley

General Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania will provide "extended area service" for Grand Valley within the next several months.

This means, according to General's President L. F. Shepherd, that Grand Valley customers will be able to call Pleasantville and Titusville parties, and Pleasantville and Titusville customers may call those in Grand Valley, without paying a toll charge.

Provisions for this service were included in the rate order for General Telephone released by the Public Utility Commission May 25.

"We hope," said Shepherd, "to accomplish the work necessary to provide this service within the next several months. Materials are on order and work will start as soon as possible."

The new rate announced for Grand Valley include interim rates which will be effective from May 25 until extended area service is started as well as a table showing the monthly increases to become effective after the service is inaugurated.

Political Signs Banned From State Vehicles

HARRISBURG (AP)—Highways Secretary Park H. Martin says he has issued stern orders not to put political signs on department trucks.

"I do not countenance any political signs on any vehicle used for state purposes," Martin told the House Appropriations Committee Monday night.

He said he issued instructions to halt such practices after hearing of an incident in Montgomery County where, it was charged, political signs were displayed on a rented truck used by Highway employees.

Martin was questioned about this by Rep. Morton H. Fetterolf (R-Montgomery), who wanted to know whether highway employees would be allowed to continue such political activity in the campaign period before the November general election. Martin said no.

Phony Moral Values Howl Inside Us Till We Listen

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. V. writes, "My divorced husband wants both our children at his remarriage. He's even asked me to let our 15-year-old boy go as an usher. I've hardly slept since getting his letter. The children were upset by the divorce. Why can't he see how cruel he is to demand this of them?"

Why all the concern for the children's feelings, Mrs. V.? Dear you feel any rage of your own at this final repudiation of you? Are you trying to be awfully civilized and "understanding"? If so, you expect a lot of yourself. Old China's aristocracy were very civilized people. Yet I have a Chinese friend whose parents never spoke to each other after his father took a concubine.

Few women have jumped for joy when their children's father took another wife. Why do you have to pretend your anger is for the children instead of for yourself?

It represents a wish for love, Mrs. V. Even in its frustrated form, it's not a feeling to be ashamed of. If some phony moral value is forbidding you to feel it, it will keep howling at the door of your consciousness just as a neglected baby will keep you awake by howling for your attention and acceptance.

To open ourselves to an anger we have denied gives peace. In the place of the strained pride that has forced us to pretend we're above jealousy and hurt and discouragement, we feel dignity—a sudden new sense of completeness.

We may suddenly burst into tears of release from the awful obligation to be what we are not, and parade saintly patience before our children so that they won't be inconvenienced by the discovery that we are a hurt, angry, discouraged human being.

As our anger becomes part of us, our problem dissolves itself. We call the children to us and say, "Daddy wants you both to see him get married. You, Bill, he wants for an usher. I don't like the idea. But I have feelings about his getting married again that you couldn't possibly have. So try to figure out what you are and make your decision. Daddy certainly seems to want you with him very much."

But if we orphan our anger as shameful, we'll speak hatefully of their father to them. Not because he hates them but because we hate the enemy in ourselves that won't let us be what we are.

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
Sam Stayman of New York is known to the bridge playing public for the Stayman convention which in some form or other is used by nearly all experts.

He is also a firm believer in unusual plays and bids when the occasion for one arise.

There was nothing unusual about his (West's) heart overcall. In fact it could almost be used as security for a bank loan.

When the opponents landed quickly at three no-trump Sam was sure that he would have to carry the whole defense by himself and chose the ace rather than his fourth best heart for his opening lead.

It was a wise choice. It had led fourth best South would have gone up with dummy's jack and knocked out Sam's ace of clubs. Hearts would still be stopped and five odd would be made.

After the ace lead Sam continued with the queen. This smothered dummy's jack. South ducked but a third heart lead cleared the suit and Sam set the hand when he got in with the club ace.

Boy Forgiven by Husband of Wife Accidentally Shot

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A saddened husband has forgiven the 9-year-old boy who fatally shot his wife with her own rifle, thinking it was a toy.

"Of course, I forgive that boy. But parents should advise their children not to touch other people's stuff," Fred Peniman, a show business veteran, said Monday.

His wife and partner in a knife-throwing and gun-shooting act, Mamie Alice, was shot to death accidentally Sunday by Frank Monaco of New Kensington.

The shooting happened at a frontier town set up as part of the city's bicentennial celebration.

Young Monaco wandered into the town with his parents, picked up a .22 caliber rifle and pulled the trigger. A shot rang out and Mrs. Peniman fell, shot fatally.

Peniman and the boy's father met briefly at the coroner's office Monday. Tears were visible on both cheeks as they shook hands.

Afterwards, Peniman told the father he forgave his son, adding:

"I know my faith in God will help me through this terrible time. Four years ago when I underwent a throat cancer operation the doctors said I wouldn't talk again but I am talking. I have faith in the Lord."

"I am going to stay in show business as long as God permits," Peniman continued, "and perhaps Mary Alice (his 8-year-old daughter) will join me in my new act."

Young Monaco was released in the custody of his parents pending an inquest.

Seven Iron Useful Club

By DOW FINSTERWALD
PGA Champion

The seven iron is one of the most useful and important clubs.

You must play it well to score consistently. Using a full swing, it is the best club to employ from the crucial distance of 140 to 150 yards from the green.

The ball should be played slightly right center from a slightly open stance. The weight should be evenly distributed. The club is gripped short for accuracy.

At the start of the backswing, the left arm should be kept straight and the right elbow starts to work in toward the body to compensate for the drawing back of that arm.

The right leg bears the brunt of the weight at the top of the backswing. The wrists are cocked, ready to begin the downswing.

Although a full swing is taken, the club is not brought all the way back as with woods and the longer irons.

As the downswing is about three-fourths completed, the wrists are ready to uncock and the left arm is still rigid. The weight begins to shift to the left. The weight is transferred entirely to the left side as the club comes in contact with the ball.

Vincent smashed out two homers to pace Titusville over Grand Valley. He was 3-for-3. Titusville owned a 6-0 margin before Grand Valley scored one run in fifth, followed by another in sixth. Haight homered for Grand Valley and Burleigh doubled.

A six-run fourth inning was decisive for Tidouite over Buells. G. Edwards hit a circuit run for the winners.

Pittsburgh Wins Marathon Slugging Match With the Giants in Extra Innings

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The bats of the Pittsburgh Pirates, practically unheard from during the weekend, beat a steady tattoo Monday night in a marathon slugfest with the San Francisco Giants.

When it was all over, the Pirates had a 12-9 victory, snapping a four-game losing streak. Each team clubbed 18 hits, but it was the Pirates' slugging in the late innings that made the difference.

With the score knotted 9-9 in the 11th inning, pinch-hitter Harry Bright belted a homer over the leftfield scoreboard, driving in Bill Mazeroski and Dick Groat ahead of him.

The Pirates trailed 9-4 going into the eighth but rallied for five runs. Highlight of the comeback was Dick Stuart's two-run homer, his eighth of the season, tying the score.

Danny Kravitz smacked a solo home run for the Pirates in the third. Felipe Alou and Willie Kirkland hit circuit blows for the Giants.

Pittsburgh used four pitchers: the Giants five. Credit for the victory went to Elroy Face, now 8-0 for the season, who has not been beaten since May 30, 1958. Since that time he has won 12 games and saved 21. Mike McCormick absorbed the loss.

Pirate catcher Smokey Burgess was hit on the side of the head by a thrown ball in the first inning and had to leave the game. He was not believed seriously hurt, but X-rays were to be taken today as a precautionary measure.

Meanwhile, Pirate general manager Joe L. Brown said he has talked about possible trades with the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs.

Brown said he is in the market for a pitcher and an outfielder.

Second Major League All-Star Game Is Proposed
NEW YORK (AP) — Details of the second major league All-Star baseball game this year will be worked out today when Warren Giles and Joe Cronin, presidents of the National and American leagues, respectively, meet with Commissioner Ford C. Frick.

The game, to be played Aug. 3 in the Los Angeles Coliseum, was approved unanimously Monday at a meeting with Frick attended by members of the pension committee and major league player representatives.

Frick said it will be possible to play the game without interrupting the regular schedule, thanks to plane travel. Pressed as to whether the same teams would complete in both games he said that would be disclosed after the meeting. It was assumed the teams would be the same.

Frick said he already had completed negotiations for radio and television rights for the second game. The agreement, with the same sponsor, calls for $250,000, the same sum as for the first game. The regularly scheduled game will be played in Pittsburgh July 7.

The second game is scheduled for this year only, and Frick said if it is successful consideration then will be given to continuing it through 1960 and 1961.

Receipts of the second game will be split on the same basis as prevails for the first game—60 per cent to the players' pension fund and the remaining 40 per cent to the central fund of the major leagues.

Coast Athletic Commission Has Knotty Problems

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A beating... mystery phone calls... fight cancellations... and the value of heavyweight Rueben Vargas.

Those are the subjects for Wednesday's state athletic commission meeting in San Francisco.

The cast of characters reads like a thick Russian novel, at least in numbers.

Jackie Leonard, Hollywood Legion Stadium matchmaker who testified at an earlier commission hearing, was the victim of the beating last week.

Vargas' manager, Bert Brodese, and the fighter's mother as well as Don Chargin, an Oakland promoter currently commuting to the Hollywood for fights there, are involved in the anonymous telephone calls.

The fight cancellation concerns Larry Boardman, a lightweight who pulled out of Saturday's Legion Stadium fight.

Brodese and Ralph Gambina, an associate of singer Frank Sinatra, are the feature attraction in the Vargas contract hassle. Brodese claims he sold a chunk of Rueben to Gambina for $10,000 but collected only $500.

Pirates Holding Try-Out Camp June 19

Pittsburgh Pirates will conduct a tryout camp at Burgettstown Friday, June 19 at Hillman Field. Sessions will begin daily at 9 a.m.

Players must be at least 17 years old. No Junior American Legion player will be permitted to participate if it will interfere with any of his Legion activities.

Boys are to furnish their own baseball shoes, uniforms and gloves. Bucs furnishing all other equipment. Players will be responsible for traveling and living expenses.

These expenses will be reimbursed to those players signed to contracts with Pittsburgh organization clubs.

Pirates' Scouting Supervisor Ray Wells and Pat McGraw will direct the tryouts.

Western Umpire Says He Has Had Enough

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — E. G. Rea says he's going to quit umpiring and go back to managing Little League baseball teams.

Rea told Assistant Oklahoma County Attorney Ryland Keys Monday that he sustained a broken nose, two black eyes, chipped teeth and a cut lip Saturday after umpiring a game in which one team beat another, 11-0.

Rea said John H. Dial, manager of the losing team, started swinging after the game was over. Rea filed a formal assault charge against Dial.

Speaking of Sports

In upper New York state they've abandoned fishing poles. So tells a gentleman over a cup of coffee the other morning. As he explains it, in "my part of the country" (upper NY) they have tossed away the fishing poles for a cross-breed between a dog and an otter. The visiting gent says the dog (or should it be dotor) goes in the water and brings up any size fish desired. Needless to say, he was a friend of "Pa" Davis of State Dunor.

Tom Gerarde will either fight tonight or go on a TV bout June 17. Rocky from his Florida training grounds in Miami Beach, Fifth street gym, tells us he's been sparring in recent days with Charlie Pavlis, undefeated Hungarian light-heavyweight. Pavlis is fighting J. Luedec next week. Rocky thinks Virg Akins is headlining the card he may appear on. Films were made of Pavlis and Gerarde last week and were shown on a local TV station in Miami. The Rock sends his "thanks" to "all the people who have been writing and wishing me well." Tom expressed gratitude for their "support in the amateurs."

Saturday morning, June 27, sailing yachts from many ports will assemble at Cleveland Yachting Club to participate in one of the most spectacular races on the Great Lakes. A trophy is the prize. The 90-mile course from Rocky River to Kelly Island and return is sailed mostly in the dark, so few land-marks are visible to help navigators stay on course. Their engines can't be used, only to maneuver in and out of harbor.

We're in receipt of an interesting clipping from J. Kenner Graham in Port Arthur, Texas. Story's about a Grant Lyons, Jr., grandson of a former prominent grandpappy here and the son of a former Warren boy. Grant, Jr., was recently awarded a four-year football scholarship at Tulane, New Orleans, La. University. In 1958, Grant was all-district guard with Port Arthur Yellow Jackets. The 17-year-old athlete chose Tulane over several other offers including one from Texas university. Lyons won the 1958 Charley Meyer award for being "outstanding linemen of the year." Grant's grandfather, U. Grant Lyons, was president of Conewango Refining Co. at 312 Market street in the 1920's. His parents, Grant Sr., live at 3525 Sixth street in Port Arthur. In his note to Times-Mirror, Graham said young Lyons is a "chip off the ol' block." I will not attempt to tell you folks the caliber of our athlete Grant is—but he spends most of his playing time in the opponent's backfield—offensive or defensive and he can hit the 'long ball' in a ballpark." Graham said Lyons is a top student.

IN THE SIGHTS—National rifle and pistol matches will be fired earlier this year. They'll be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, July 27 to August 29. Guns stored in closets and cases should be inspected frequently at this time of year. Hot humid weather and moisture can play havoc with the bore or action of any firearm in just a few days. Best protection is a light coating of good gun oil in the bore and over the outer surfaces. —Pennsylvania State Shoot is at South End Gun Club in Reading June 18-21. Beaver Falls Pistol matches July 16-17; Junior Small Bore Rifle Regional June 27-28.

Where Do Good Teachers Go?

Many are leaving the campus for jobs in industry. Not because they want to... but because it's the only way they can make both ends meet.

This is an alarming trend! If it continues, our children can look forward at best to a second rate education. And, by the same token, it bodes ill for our country.

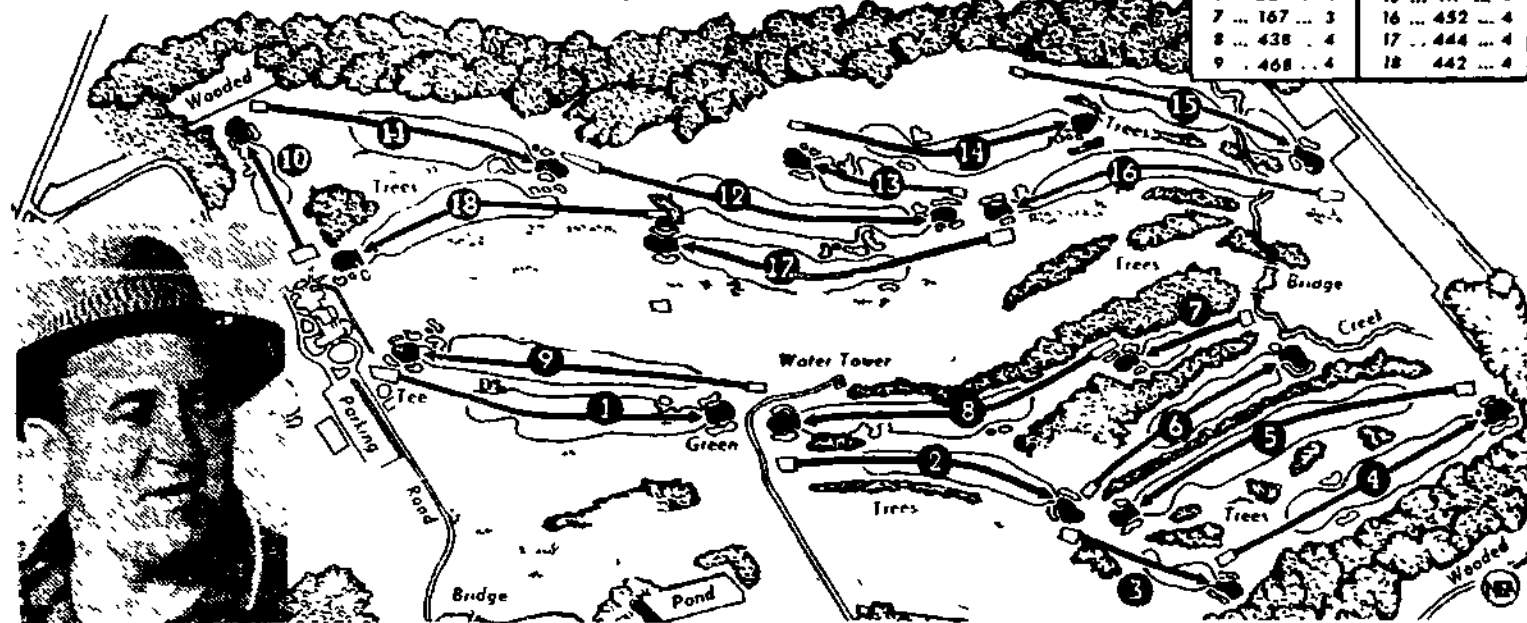

Won't you help in this crisis? Support the college of your choice. Help it to pay competent teachers a respectable salary. The rewards will be greater than you think.

House Is Back on Its Resolutions Kicks

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania House of Representatives is back on its resolutions kick.

Last week a resolution of praise for Pittsburgh Pirates Pitcher Harvey Haddix was knocked out of the box when House Speaker Hiram Andrews said he was getting a little tired of resolutions praising just about anyone for anything.

He refused to give his consent to allow the Haddix resolution on the floor of the house. Instead, he sent it back to the Rules Committee for study. The resolution resulted from Haddix's 12 no-hit innings against the Milwaukee Braves.

Monday night, however, the House praised the Penn State baseball team for winning the regional NCAA championship, a fellow legislator for becoming a father and another legislator for winning an award.

Andrews wasn't on the floor at the time.

Willis Mattoon, Busti town officer, who investigated the accident, said Jordan stated he had fallen asleep at the wheel after the car had negotiated a right curve. The Jordan auto was completely demolished, with damage estimated at about $800.

of London newspaper criticisms of Liberec.

An Evening News critic was quoted as saying a movie in which Liberec appeared "de-lighted his fans and sickened the critics."

A Daily Herald reviewer asserted that Liberec's "leers and dimples make me heave."

Another Evening News article said the pianist's smile "had a mildly emetic effect on me."

Connor, in one of the articles in 1956 which led to the libel suit, said Liberec was "the biggest sentimental vomit of all time."

"This emetic language is new to me," said Liberec. "No American critic has ever referred to me in such words."

In response to a direct question from his lawyer Monday, Liberec denied he was a homosexual. The newspaper and Connor contend that the columnist's criticism of the American entertainer contained no such suggestion.

Once again the pianist drew a packed house, mostly women, to the court. Dozens of standees lined the walls and scores milled around in the hall.

Nicaraguan Rebels Ordered to Surrender

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Nicaragua's commander in chief today called on rebels against his family's government to surrender and claimed they had been knocked out in the rebellion's first major battle.

Gen. Anastasio Somoza, brother of President Luis Somoza, said the insurgents apparently ran out of ammunition in a bloody battle Monday which, he claimed, marked a decisive turn in the 11-day revolt.

A Nicaraguan rebel radio broadcast heard in neighboring Honduras said reported, however, that civil resistance to the Somoza regime was increasing.

Agustin Torres Lazo, first secretary of the Nicaraguan Embassy in Washington, resigned Monday and aligned himself with the anti-Somoza faction led from Costa Rica by Dr. Enrique Lacayo Farfan.

new accord on Berlin but lacked final instructions. He made no concessions, but neither did he slam the door on further talks.

President Eisenhower said last week he would not go to a summit meeting under threat of a Soviet squeeze on West Berlin. The conflicting positions taken by the President and the Soviet Premier have left the range of maneuver for the foreign ministers very narrow.

American officials are convinced there would be serious trouble if the Soviets turned over control of the West Berlin access routes to the East Germans and then tried to stop Western traffic.

Khrushchev now is conferring in Moscow with top East German officials. Western diplomats believe it may be several days before Gromyko gets his orders from the Kremlin.

Western diplomats assume that the Moscow conference deals with the Geneva talks. Red sources in Geneva also have hinted that Khrushchev, Walter Ulbricht, East German party chief, and Premier Otto Grotewohl may be polishing up a Soviet-East German peace treaty for signing at some future date.

Final results of the foreign ministers' conference are unpredictable.

Soviet spokesman Mikhail Khramov told newsmen the conference, now in its fifth week, is nearing conclusion.

Western leaders are still convinced Khrushchev wants a summit conference and will be willing to modify his Berlin demands to get it. Khrushchev has said flatly he will concede nothing.

In an effort to prod Gromyko into taking a final stand, U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and France's Maurice Couve de Murville presented him with what officials called the rock bottom Western terms for a stop-gap agreement on Berlin.

They called for the Soviet Union to affirm the right of the Western powers to supply their troops in Berlin and to protect the economic lif of West Berlin against Communist pressures.

Herter said the Soviet government must abandon its threat to West Berlin or the West won't join in a summit conference.

The financial details of the contract between Patterson and Johansson have been worked out since early March and both fighters have been drilling for weeks.

Thousands of tickets, some costing as much as $100, have been sold and arrangements perfected to show the action on closed TV in some 200 theaters.

Machen seeks to restrain Johansson from meeting Patterson until he and the Swedish challenger fight again. He produced a contract in court in which it was agreed that if Johansson won their first bout, they would meet again before either fought anyone else.

It was signed by Alvin Ahlquist, whom the Machen forces identified as Johansson's manager. In the hearings last week Johansson said that Ahlquist was an advisor, not his manager and that the agreement was reached under duress.

In making the decision to delay the signing, if any, until after the court decision, General Krulwich said, "It would be an affront to the court to have the boxers sign now."

Pittsburgh's Boy Wonder Is Facing Charges in Rio

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Earl Belle, so-called boy wonder of finance in Pittsburgh, has been accused before police here with trying to float $246,000 of stock in a company which had no assets and could not pay its bills.

Belle is wanted in Pennsylvania on fraud charges. He has been living for a year in Rio de Janeiro. Brazil has no extradition treaty with the United States and he cannot be compelled to return for trial. The U. S. consulate ordered his passport surrendered so that it could be used for travel only to the United States. Belle has appealed, and a decision is pending in Washington.

A Brazilian financier, Roberto Cleal Lobo E. Silva, whose business is floating stock in new companies, brought the new charges against Belle yesterday. He asked the chief of police for a full investigation.

Lobo charged that Belle sent an emissary named Edouard Sasson to him last December asking him to float 32 million Cruzeiros of stock in a firm known as Machines and Abrasives Co.

He claimed Sasson invited him to a luncheon where the promoters made him a vice president in the new company.

Lobo said he was taken to the site where workers were supposed to be digging silica and was shown big stocks but later learned the workers were hired for only half an hour while he was around and the stocks were nothing but sand.

Lobo said he bought about $23,000 of stock in the company from Belle and gave him a postdated check in payment. Later he issued nine other checks to Belle bearing future dates to be exchanged for the first one he had given. But, he said, Belle kept the old one and the nine new ones and now is trying to collect on them all. Lobo said he has stopped payment.

Belle told a reporter the charges were untrue.

Clarion Co. Girl Wins Top Award of F.H.A.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Cecelia Elaine Aaron, Strattonville High School senior, today won a top award $1,000 college scholarship from the Pennsylvania Future Homemakers of America.

The Clarion County girl received the award at the 14th annual state F.H.A. conference here, attended by over 1,000 Pennsylvania high school girls. The conference will close Wednesday noon.

Frances Snyder, Bentleyville High School, Washington County, was named alternate for the scholarship.

Unemployment in State Reveals Another Drop

HARRISBURG (AP)—Unemployment in Pennsylvania, on the decline for four months, dropped another 50,000 in May, reported William L. Batt Jr., secretary of labor and industry.

The reduction in May left some 354,000 Pennsylvanians out of work, or some 7.9 per cent of the total labor force.

In a statement Monday, Batt attributed the improved unemployment picture to normal employment gains in seasonal industries and to a continuation of the rise in manufacturing of durable goods, particularly steel.

Motorist Blinded by Sun Causes 4 Deaths

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Sun apparently blinded a young housewife whose small foreign sedan rammed the side of a school bus Monday, killing four persons.

Dead were the young woman, her two children, and her mother-in-law.

Highway Patrolman Leon Walters said the absence of skid marks indicated that Thelma Pauline Shirley, 22, didn't see the bus crossing an intersection near her home at San Martin, 20 miles south of here.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market steadied with prices slightly higher early today after an initial flurry to the downside. Gains and losses of most key stocks went from fractions to a point or more.

Flag of Borough Presented Cornplanters

When the Chief Cornplanter Drum and Bugle Corps makes its next public appearance, the flag of the Borough of Warren will be carried in the bank of banners leading the American Legion's corps.

The flag was presented to the Cornplanters in suitable ceremonies last night at 8 o'clock by Burgess William E. Rice, who last fall asked Council to secure a flag for this purpose.

The burgess congratulated the corps on winning first place at Dunkirk and asked that they carry the borough flag with a pride equal to the pride that the people of Warren have in this top-flight musical organization.

Councilmen and borough officials lined the steps of the municipal building, and a fair-sized crowd looked on as the Cornplanters presented a concert before and after the presentation.

Following the presentation the Corps marched to General Joseph Warren Park where it played a half-hour program which thoroughly entertained a large crowd that gathered in the vicinity.

Flood Committees Spurred By Action Freezing Funds

Revitalized by the restoration of $1,400,000 to the Army Engineers for use on the proposed Kinzua Dam the flood committees of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce and the Warren borough swung into action in joint session in the Chamber's offices the two committees reviewed their actions to date, then went into a prolonged discussion of future plans which lasted for close to two hours.

With the House victory behind them, Chairman Merie Kremer of the Chamber's Committee and Chairman John Carbon of the Borough's Committee, guided their respective members in reaching vital decisions which will shape the course of the two organizations as they move towards pending action by the Senate's Subcommittee on Appropriations.

It is in the Senate that the local groups have hopes of not only holding the "freeze" on the present funds, but, of getting the $5,000,000 they ask for when they appeared before the Subcommittee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives.

The additional $5,000,000 is needed by the Army Engineers to start immediate work on the controversial dam if the Supreme Court decides, against hearing the Seneca Indian injunction case. For this reason, both Mr. Kremer and Mr. Carbon urge all interested persons to write or wire; Senator Allen J. Ellender, Senator John S. Clark, and Senator Hub Scott; asking that they support the appropriation of such a fund in the Senate's recommendations.

Boro Council Urges Senate To Join House on Dam Fund

With the prospect of a concert by the Cornplanters and a light agenda, Council disposed of its month's business in a scant half hour last night, and as the drum and bugle corps swung into place in front of the municipal building, Council greeted a motion to adjourn with a chorus of "ayes" which nearly drowned out the corps.

The final resolution, offered by Councilman Carbon, memorialized the appropriations committee of the United States Senate to concur with House action to hold the $1,400,000 appropriation for 1959 use on the Kinzua Dam and to make available such additional funds as possible for the dam. This resolution also passed unanimously.

A handful of anti-fluoridation people appeared, apparently because of the persistent rumor that Council was going to act on the proposal at the June meeting. President Laskaris opened the meeting by reminding the members that their resolution precludes any action until Council is officially notified by the county commissioners on the result of the primary election on the so-called "referendum". Such notice has not been received.

now prohibited on all bridges of the borough and both approaches to the Hickory street bridge.

Council approved leasing War Memorial Field to the American Legion Drum Corps on July 4 for the drum corps competition and the Jaycees were given to conduct a water battle the same evening on the Beaty tennis courts.

Engineer DeBell expressed his gratification that so many people had visited and expressed approval of the sewage disposal plant. He reported that final easement plans and right-of-way agreements for the upper Glade Run project had been received, and as soon as they are signed, Council will be in a position to approve the project. He expressed the hope that work could begin by fall.

The Rev. Beecher Rutledge, rector of Trinity Memorial Episcopal Church, gave the invocation.

NAMED AT BRADFORD

Lee C. Fitzpatrick, Warren, was chosen commander of the VFW 19th District in convention sessions held Sunday at Bradford. Nearly 100 delegates from the 28 posts in the seven-county area and 60 members of the Auxiliary were in attendance.

Council regrettably accepted resignations of two officials, Auditor John J. Smith and Planning Commissioner Ray J. Reed. Daniel Dagherly was appointed auditor but no replacement for Mr. Reed was elected. R. W. Steber was reappointed to the parking authority.

Chairman Nick Merenick, of the Public Works Committee, presented a resolution to authorize work under the Civil Defense Flood Relief Project, a resolution approving assessment for the Hill street sanitary sewer and a motion to advertise for blacktop for the streets. All were approved.

Sylvania Gets Nod For Multi-Million Job

Receipts of a multi-million-dollar contract for development of communications systems for the Navy's Polaris program was announced today by Robert E. Lewis, President of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of General Telephone and Electronics Corporation.

Prime contract is from the Navy's Bureau of Ships, Mr. Lewis said, and is an outgrowth of other Sylvania work in the communications field for the Navy.

Work on the program would be carried out in facilities of Sylvania Electronic Systems, a major division of the company. The division has 16 plants and laboratories at Waltham, Mass.; Amherst and Buffalo, N. Y.; Mountain View and Santa Cruz, Calif.; Needham, Mass.; Muncy and Williamsport, Pa.

The new contract, as well as other Sylvania projects in the communications field, Mr. Lewis said, is a "natural and planned out growth of the company's experience in military communications dating as far back as World War II." During World War II and the Korean Conflict, Sylvania was a major producer of communications sets for the military services.

Plan Reception For Former Scout Executive June 13

An informal reception has been arranged for former Scout Executive Elmer H. Morgan and his wife, Bernice. The farewell party will be held at the YWCA on Saturday, June 13 beginning at 8:00 p. m.

All Scouters, their wives and friends of the Morgans are invited to drop by to visit with the Morgans before they move from Warren to take up their new residence in Easton.

Morgan served as Scout Executive of the Chief Cornplanter Council, Boy Scouts of America for a period of four years. During his years of service with the local Council he was instrumental in the increase in the number of boys served and the addition of a Field Scout Executive. Active in the Rotary Club and the First Presbyterian Church, as well as other civic organizations, Elmer acquired a host of friends. Both the Morgans are looking forward to seeing many of their friends at the farewell party on the 13th.

Arrangements for the affair are being made by Henry Walker, assisted by Joseph Wick, and Judge Alexander Flick.
